Christian College Notes.

[ADV.]
—Geometry is a thing of the past, with the class of 1893-94. They were examined on nine books and they acquitted themselves with much credit.

—Judge Boyle Stone, of Liberty, came up on Friday to attend the operetta, and returned home after the entertainment, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Amanda.

—The Reed Sisters were entertained at the college during their stay in Hintonville. The entertainment was complimented by all who attended it; it was elevating in character, and showed much culture upon the part of both ladies. Such entertainments should be encouraged and patronized as they tend to elevate the character of the young.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jackson VanArtsdell, of Mercer, made their daughters, Mrs. M. G. Thomson and Miss Etha VanArtsdell, a pleasant visit last week. Mr. and Mrs. I. C. James and their bright, little daughter, Annie, came on Friday to hear "Katie Dean," and to visit relatives. Miss Annie was the special guest of Miss Catharine Thomson at the college, who entertained her in such a delightful manner as to cause many regrets, when the separation came. Miss Allie Surker spent from Friday until Monday with her aunt, Mrs. Martha Hubb.

—The operetta, "Katie Dean," given at the Christian church on Friday evening, March 23d, for the benefit of the college library, was a pronounced success. By 8 o'clock the church was filled and at 10 minutes past eight the Heroine, "Katie Dean" impersonated by Miss Erma Morse, made her appearance, in appropriate dress as the "Rag-picker." She is an orphan and conceives the idea of finding a mother. After wandering through many discouragements, and many trying ordeals, she is successful. The lady, who adopts her, is impersonated by Miss Emma Pruitt, whose queenly manners, grace, and dignity, could not have been surpassed. Katie finally enters a palatial home, surrounded by every comfort that wealth could afford, or heart could desire. In our imagination we are still greeted by the music strains of Katie's charming voice, and the impression she made on the audience will be removed, only by the tomb-builder, time. Biddle McQuine, who raised Katie from infancy, was a typical Irish woman, impersonated by Miss Kate Moore, and a better one for it could not have been chosen. In brogue, manner, independence, austerity, and candor, the Biddy of the Emerald Isle was transported, yet much improved upon by a sweet, musical voice. Mr. James B. Cook played in the role of Edward, the lady's coachman. In his full suit of Livery, he looked even handsomer than ever before. His much complimented tenor voice rang with unusual clearness and sweetness, and every ear seemed set to catch the sweet strains, he played his part well. Mr. W. A. Dinwiddie appeared as the butler. At his first appearance, he seemed a little awkward, falling and breaking a waiter of dishes; but, in an instant he was en hibet again, and atoned for everything by the dignity and perfect manner in which he rendered his part. Mr. Claude Pruitt, the police officer, seemed every inch a well-drilled policeman, and commanding; he wore the brass buttons, and wielded the "billy" with characteristic grace. The character of the newspaper reporter was well chosen, in the person of Mr. James North. He looked like an editor, acted like an editor, is polite like an editor, and should be an editor. At the end of the 2nd act, was a beautiful tableau, representing Katie's angel mother, appearing to her in a dream. In this Miss Lillie McCormick posed, and the picture was beautiful and pathetic. Immediately after the tableau, Lullaby from Ermine was sung by Mrs. J. H. Riffe, Miss Anna Reid, Messrs. James Cook and W. A. Dinwiddie. The sweet, and charming soprano of Mrs. Riffe, and the rich deep alto of Miss Reid, with the handsome appearance, which both presented on the stage, was a marked feature of the entertainment. While Miss Erma Morse was the heroine, we might appropriately call Miss Bennett the hero and musician. She has worked with untiring assiduity in planning and arranging the operetta, and she has certainly shown much taste and skill in the work. The entertainment closed with a grand chorus, welcoming Katie Dean to her new home. In addition to the principal characters in the play, the following composed the chorus; Misses Dolly Whipp, Amanda Stone, Victoria Bishop, Dolly Cowden, Minnie Eubanks, Lillie McCormick, Anna Reid, and Mr. and Mrs. John Riffe. Last, but not least, by any means was the Metropolitan Band, of Stanford. It was almost the sine qua non of the occasion. The selections were tasty and appropriate, and the rendition was artistic. They were encored several times, which showed the high appreciation of the audience. The Library Association extends to them their hearty thanks.

J. L. Nourse, the oldest citizen of Bell county, is dead, aged 98.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—P. F. Stillings left this week for a month's trip, substituting mail routes.

—Fred Pigg has his arm in a sling, having accidentally cut his hand about half in two.

—Hop Steele is using crutches. While cutting wood he almost cut off a limb near the ankle.

—Commonwealth's Attorney W. R. Ramsey has been sent a sack of fine seed corn for distribution by the State Commission of Agriculture.

—The "beautiful" snow decorated the flowers and shrubs in this vicinity Sunday. There is no impeaching the fact that the peach crop in Laurel has been eliminated.

—The nuisance located on the southern part of the public square was turned over one night last week. As it was the county's property an investigation was instituted by Squire Moses, but the perpetrators were not found out. Let it go and the people who used it take to the woods.

—The recent religious meetings here have resulted in great good, with near 20 new additions to the different churches. There were three prayer meetings last week. There was a dance given at Mr. Ed. Wyan's last Friday night and all the young folks present complain that they enjoyed themselves better than ever in life before.

—Jake Walder, a Swiss carpenter who has been making his home with John Blumchi at East Bernstadt since last December, disappeared about two weeks ago. He did not owe anybody anything and left Mr. Blumchi $150 or $200. His trunk and best clothing is at Mr. Blumchi's, who is very anxious to learn of his whereabouts and fears that he may have been foully dealt with. Mr. Walder was 40 years old and weighed about 170 pounds.

—Apropos of the "brags" of brother Dyche about the new republican converts, I heard a leading republican say, a few days ago that he wouldn't vote that ticket any more. That the acts of that party in the primary was such to show him that it wasn't the party of morality he thought it was, and pretended to be. All the same he will walk up in November and vote the straight republican ticket just like some of brother Dyche's converts will do in November on the other side.

—C. M. Randall has withdrawn his notice of contest against Frank Elliott in the sheriff's race, and the several negroes arrested as illegal voters have been turned loose. The agreement between Elliott and Randall is that the latter shall support the former in the present race and he will support Randall in any race he may make in the future. I understand the charge Randall made was that voters had repeated, been imported and that Elliott had used whisky and money contrary to the agreement of all candidates who went into primary.

QUEEN AND CRESCENT ROUTE.—"Glimpses of the World's Fair." A selection of 192 Gems of the White City seen through the Camera. This handsome volume containing 192 photographic half-tone views of the entire Exposition, showing all main buildings, all state and territorial buildings, all foreign buildings, grounds, statuary, lagoons, and about 40 views of the great Midway Plaisance, will be sent to any address on receipt of 25 cents and five cents for postage. This book has been issued by the greatest of Southern railroads—the Queen & Crescent Route—and its excellence is without a flaw. A most delightful collection of exquisite views, in small and convenient-sized book. Many such collections are large and cumbersome. Send your address and 30 cents to W. G. Rinckau, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati, Ohio.

To the Editor Interior Journal.

We, the undersigned officers of election in precinct No. 3, Stanford, take pleasure in stating that the report that L. M. Lasley, one of the judges in said precinct, opened and looked at any of the ballots, is absolutely false and without foundation.

John Skidmore, judge, N. W. Sampson, sheriff, W. B. Penny, clerk.

Chain of Lakes, Waupaca, Wis.

The attention of those figuring on a place for their "summer outing" is called to Waupaca, Wis., located on the Wisconsin Central Lines about 200 miles from Chicago. It is a delightful spot, surrounded by a beautiful chain of lakes, which abound in bass, trout, pike, pickerel and muskallonge. Good hotel accommodations at rates within reach of all. For full particulars, maps and guide books, address Jas. C. Pond, Genl. Passr. Agt. Milwaukee, Wis.

Cure for Headache.

As a remedy for all forms of Headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual headache is easily reduced to nothing. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels and few cases long remain in the market. Try it once. Large bottles only 50 cents each. A. R. Peavy's Drug Store.

Chamberlin's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine I handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs and croup. A. W. Haldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale by Dr. S. G. Hocke, druggist.

A Plea of Confession and Avoidance. (To the Editor of Interior Journal)

Pittsburgh, March 23.—In notice in London letter of to-day's issue quite a lengthy article from Mr. John Pearl stating that I voted in the republican primary March 9, and that he didn't think me worthy of being chairman Democratic County Committee, etc. I did vote in said primary, as did a number of so-called democrats as Mr. Pearl, and was sworn to support the nominees just so far as I voted, and not the whole ticket.

Laurel county is republican by a large majority, and as good men were running for nomination, and nomination is equivalent to election in this county, I voted to assist good men to office—that I believed would enforce the law.

As to Mr. Pearl being deposed as chairman I don't know anything about the whys or wherefores, neither did I know that I was appointed in his stead until I received a copy of the "Democratic Organization." I was not even an applicant, and if the democrats of Laurel county want another man as chairman I am perfectly willing. However, I am still a democrat and ready to do my part.

I deem this explanation due to my Lincoln county friends and democrats. I am

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Eight ewes belonging to A. J. Garham, of Fayette county, had 24 lambs 20 of which are living.

—During Mr. M. N. DePanw's stay in Charlotte, N. C., he sold 60 small cotton miles at an average of $80.

—George Baker reports the purchase of a lot of butcher cattle at 1½c, and the sale of a yoke of oxen for $50.

—The Stock Farm says that J. R. Farris' Guardsman, by Aleystone, promises to be a money-winner this year.

—The Christian church man, who planted 80 acres in corn before the cold snap, now doubtless wishes he hadn't.

—New Jersey sends to market every year 2,000,000 baskets of peaches and makes over 200,000 gallons of apple jack.

—Idol Wilkes, a brown stallion, has been sold at Lexington to John Denman, of Colorado Springs, Col., for the reported price of $8,000.

—The Waco, Texas, Cotton Palace Association has purchased a block in which to locate the palace. The exposition will be open to the public about the 1st of October.

—Mike Bowerman, of Lexington, has issued a challenge of $1,000 to match his pair of mares against any double team eligible to the 2:19 class, in the world, three in line.

—A new species of sharper has struck Western Kentucky. He secretly feeds whisky soaked corn to a farmer's hogs and then offers his services to cure them of what he calls the "reeling hogs." He usually charges $20.

—Oklahoma is destined to become a great fruit growing country. The young territory now has 683,000 growing apple trees, 618,000 peach trees, 69,000 cherry trees, 51,000 pear trees and a great variety of other fruit trees and vines of every description.

—The annual production of eggs in the United States is estimated at over 600,000,000 dozen. Estimate the price at 15 cents per dozen and you have $90,000,000. Taking poultry and eggs together you have a total annual production of $740,000,000.

—Our traders are engaging lambs for June delivery at 5 cents. Dealers are only offering 12½ cents for wool, and mutton is correspondingly low in price. Bangham Bros., of Bixby, sold to H. A. Marksbury 9,000 pounds hemp at $4 delivered this week. —Lancaster Record.

—Receipts of eggs Monday and Tuesday, as compiled by the New York Mercantile Exchange, foot up 52,777 cases, equal to 1,588,864 dozens, or 20,266,368 eggs, the largest number ever received in two days. Dealers hung out signs, "Twenty-three eggs for 25 cents."

—D. B. Clayton, of Lewisburg, Tenn., recently bought of John S. Robinson, of this county, 15 long yearling mules, and 20 short yearling mules, the pick of his two lots, at $40 per head, all around, and four short yearlings of F. P. Jones at $45. Dave Walter has bought quite a lot of lambs for July 1st, delivery at 5 cents and a few for May 15th. —Harrington Democrat.

—J. S. Wortham, of Leitchfield, has announced his candidacy for Congress against Hon. A. B. Montgomery.

—Hon. Joe M. Kendall has announced himself a candidate for Congress in the 10th Kentucky district against Representative Lisle.

—A Philadelphia brute, enraged because his baby would not stop crying, opened the stove and threw it in, so horribly burning it that it died in a short time.

—Two of the men implicated in the attempt to kidnap Olive Kraft, at New Albany, have been sentenced to five years in the penitentiary and $25 fine. The case has a local interest here because John Cain, formerly of this county, told on the rascals.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Five people were killed and one injured by an explosion of dynamite near Pittsburgh.

—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian church will convene at Nashville May 17.

—The meeting at the Methodist chapel in East Mayaville closed last week with 175 conversions.

—The Southern Baptist Convention will meet in its 49th session Friday, May 11, in Dallas, Tex.

—From April 1, 1893 to January 1, 1894, the American Baptist Missionary Union sent out 61 new missionaries to the foreign fields of the society.

—Rev. Sam Jones emphatically denies the report that he has gone over to the Baptists, exclaiming: "No! Not by a long jump. Methodist till I die."

—The Salvation Army has secured the largest ever garden in Atlantic City, and proposes to turn it into a hall for Sunday afternoon and evening meetings. The army reports a total of 5,250 conversions for last month, this being the largest yet.

—Rev. George H. Robbins, pastor of the Lincoln Park Baptist church, Cincinnati, had a cross and the American flag placed on the church spire last Sunday. This is said to be the first instance of the kind that has ever occurred, and it ought to be the last. Bro. Robbins is either a fool or a knave.

—The union revival which has been in progress at Falmouth for 11 weeks, goes on, says the Democrat, with unabated interest, and the end is not in sight. The pastor of the Baptist church baptized 31, and the pastor of the Christian church 23, while the other denominations have had many additions.

—Rev. H. Fulton, of Forester county, N. C., attempted to hang himself with a blind bridle last week. His wife found him suspended from a beam in his barn. When she cut him down the would-be suicide remonstrated, saying: "In a few moments I would have been in the New Jerusalem." "Yes," replied the enraged woman, "you would have looked nice in there with a blind bridle around your neck."

—The chancel of the Christian church was beautifully ornamented with flowers and evergreens Sunday in celebration of Easter and the song service arranged for the occasion was unusually fine. Eld. W. E. Ellis' sermon was an eloquent argument based upon the preponderance of the evidence that Christ arose from the dead, an event that brought redemption to a sin-cursed world and deliverance from the power of death. All of the seats in the church were filled and many had to occupy chairs in the aisles.

—The looked-for death of Rev. W. H. Munnell occurred Thursday night at his home in Louisville. He was 54 years of age, and had quite a checkered career as lawyer, editor and preacher. While he was editing the Louisville Democrat, Rev. George O. Barnes held a meeting in Louisville and Mr. Munnell became greatly interested in religious work. He gave up his paper and opened Central Mission, where it is said over 1,000 souls were converted during his ministry. He was twice married, his last wife, who survives him, being Miss Nannie Abbott, a former Paris belle.

—The late Chief Justice Stone, of Alabama, was held in high esteem as a man, as well as in great repute as a jurist. He served on the bench for more than 50 years, in that time deciding more than 2,400 cases.

—It took a woman in Brooklyn, N. Y., to discover from a casual acquaintance with Miss Pollard that "she is the most polished and consummate liar I have ever met." But in another part of her interview she admits that she "never met Colonel Breckinridge." —Richmond Register.

—As the total production of sugar in the United States in 1890 was only 227,000 tons, it would be cheaper to buy all of it and dump it into the Gulf of Mexico than to put a protective tax on imported sugar because of it. Once on the free list always on the free list! —New York World.

—Prof. Richard L. Garner, who went to Africa to learn the language of the gorilla and chimpanzee, has returned to New York. He spent over four months in a cage in an African jungle, where he had abundant opportunity for observation. He has learned six or eight words of monkey language and says there are about 40 or 50 words in the gorilla vocabulary.

—The G. A. R. meets in Pittsburg, Pa., in September and the local executive committee has already announced that hotel rates with a three days' limit can be secured from $1.50 to $5 per day; lodgings from 50 cents to $1 per night, and railroad rates from one fare for the round trip to one cent a mile. To avoid delay and annoyance, hand satchels should be used for baggage. Free quarters will be furnished in school-houses and other buildings upon application.

—I will receive and open this week a nice line of hats for early spring wear, and kindly solicit the patronage of town and country. Mrs. H. L. Steger.

STANFORD, KY., MARCH 27, 1894

W. P. WALTON.

6 OR 8 PAGES.
EVERY FRIDAY.

PRENDEGRASST was not hung Friday, as we had predicted. His lawyers wanted a little more advertising, so after being refused a further hearing in the Supreme Court of the State, in the United States Court of Appeals, by the governor and lieutenant governor, they appealed to a local judge and got a stay pending an inquisition for lunacy. This unheard-of procedure was secured at midnight Thursday, just 11 hours before the cowardly assassin would have had his neck broken, if justice had been meted to him. Buff Higgins, who wounded a common every day man, was hung according to program, as his lawyers could get neither money nor advertising out of his case. When he was taken out of his cell the other prisoners in the Chicago jail cried out, "Hang Prendergrast," which caused him to crouch in a corner in abject terror. We will venture another prediction. Prendergrast will not be hung at all. A jury will find him crazy on the testimony of packed experts, and he will be sent to an asylum to regain his senses in due season. A man who has method in his alleged madness sufficient to plan and execute so diabolical a crime as he, has enough sense to be made to pay the penalty for it.

The Jessamine Democratic Committee in fixing the qualification for voters at the primary election, had a clause permitting those democrats who had voted the prohibition ticket (not for prohibition in the abstract), and desired to return to their first love, to take part in the election, provided they would pledge themselves to vote for each of the nominees in November. This was submitted to the State Central Committee, which ruled that a man must first show his desire to return to the democratic fold by voting in a regular election. This is evidently right and proper. A man who kicks out of the traces at every imagined provocation should not be permitted to stand alongside those democrats who have been true and borne the burden and heat of the day, and have as much say as anybody who shall be the nominees. Let them show their faith by their works and bring forth fruits meet for repentence before they are taken into full fellowship.

On account of Good Friday the court adjourned from Thursday till yesterday, so there is little to tell in the Pollard-Breckinridge case. "Willie" has not taken the stand, and there is a growing impression that if he cannot present any better plea than that his lawyer made for him he had best not submit himself to the ordeal of a critical cross examination. There have been cases of women seducing men, and often they are as much to blame, but "Willie" was too old a bird to be caught that way. No Peggotty could have made such a Willie's Barkis of him had he not been a little too anxious himself.

The proprietor of the Wilbur Opera Company has offered Miss Madeline Pollard $500 a week to join his company. Asked if she could sing, he replied, "I do not know; and furthermore, I do not care. She is the best advertised woman in America to-day, and would draw like a sticking plaster." Enemies of the fly young woman have all along said that her object, in addition to humiliating and disgracing Col. Breckinridge, was to make herself solid with theatrical managers, as she was well aware that no money could be made out of the colonel, no matter if she got a verdict.

SENATOR JOHN O. HONOR, of Lexington, will be a candidate for superintendent of public instruction, for which office the woods are full of seekers. He is thoroughly versed in common school matters, to which he has given much attention. Like a great many other men he has a hobby, and his is the total abolition of corporal punishment in public schools under a heavy penalty. The boys would be unanimously for him if they had a voice.

WHENEVER a man is designated as "Honest as so" the chances are two to one that he is not as honest as his name implies. "Honest Dick" Tate is a living exemplification of the fact, and now comes "Honest Tom" Tuit, ex-treasurer of Detroit, who has just been arrested in New York charged with having stolen $15,522 from the city and falsifying his books to cover up the defalcation. Putting honest before a man's name is about the same as giving a dog a bad name.

The silver men called on the president Saturday and urged him to sign the Bland Seigniorage Coinage bill and refute the assertion that he was ignoring their interests. Mr. Cleveland heard them patiently and courteously and said that in considering the question he would regard no section, but attempt to find out what was best for the whole people and act accordingly. It is thought that he will veto it.

Less than a year ago Maj. Randall, a wealthy citizen of Dallas, Texas, put the brand of Cain on his brow by killing his own brother in such a manner as to incite public indignation. Since then he has spent $50,000 in trying to escape punishment, but a jury Saturday, after a long drawn out trial, gave him 20 years, notwithstanding the best legal talent in the State defended him. They seem to manage such things better everywhere than in Kentucky.

ALTHOUGH the democrats have an almost unheard of majority in the House, they have been prevented by the republican minority from nearly a week from taking up the contested election cases. If there is no rule to stop such a humiliating failure, one should be adopted at once, or Speaker Crisp, like Caesar Reed, should take the hit in his mouth.

The Courier-Journal says that those who celebrated Neal Dow's birthday celebrated a failure. It was he who first invoked the law to take the place of moral suasion. There is good reason to believe that the prohibition idea, pursued as it has been with intolerance, has been a positive drawback to the progress of temperance reform.

THERE are a good many tramps in the country but they are not as big a lot of tools as Gen. Coxey imagined so his "Army of the Commonwealth" was to have been massed at Massillon, O. Sunday to march on to Washington, did not materialize, only about 50 showing up. Coxey is a crank and a very bad man to tie to generally.

The republican Legislature of Iowa has passed a liquor license law after a long trial of prohibition, which is acknowledged to have been a failure, except as a means to almost disrupt that party. The new law is strongly guarded however, and is rather a compromise between entire legal prohibition and high license.

AND now some fellow has had the gall to claim the authorship of "The Ogallala," which Young Allison recently launched on a long suffering public, and from which he has been hiding ever since. Mr. Allison says he can have it if he may only come out of his hole.

If it be true as stated that President Cleveland has decided to retain Harrison's man Palmer as public printer, he ought to resign and give Vice-President Stevenson a chance. The people are getting tired of this mungmung business.

The Vermont maple sugar crop, it is said, will be very short this season, but the Vermonters will get the bounty all the same. There are many ways of making maple sugar without using maple water.

Breckinridge.

—The court and the lawyers went off by themselves Saturday to hear arguments on the objections of Miss Pollard's counsel to certain depositions offered by the defense. The depositions in question are those of Alex. Julian, Dr. Lewis and W. W. Rossell, and are offered for the purpose of showing the bad character of the plaintiff before her meeting with Col. Breckinridge.

—Death's DOINGS.

—After a long illness of consumption, Mrs. Margaret Knowles Bibb ceased to suffer Thursday night at her home at McKinney and went to that heavenly home, in which she begged her children and friends to meet her. Mrs. Bibb was born in Virginia 73 years ago and at an early age married Mr. R. F. Bibb, who afterwards became noted as a railroad contractor and who died three years ago. To them were born 11 children, 10 of whom are living. Mrs. Helen Bibb, Mrs. Reuben Williams and Mrs. Green Moore residing in this county. Deceased was a most estimable woman, as those who knew her best assure us. She was a member of the Presbyterian church for over 40 years and died as she had lived, in full assurance of the faith. After a funeral sermon at her late home at 10 o'clock Saturday, loving friends followed the remains to Buffalo Cemetery, where they were laid beside those of her husband.

—A large elephant had to be killed in Stuttgart on account of his temper. A single bullet from a small bore rifle delivered in his forehead dropped him dead.

—PERFORMANCES at theaters of ancient Greece sometimes lasted twelve hours. Seven o'clock in the morning was the time for the raising of the curtain, so to speak.

—A exceedingly rare animal, a black-faced, black-eared carbon, was recently shot at Andover, Me. This carbon was also unusually large, with big, branching horns.

NOTICED IN GOTHAM.

"OCCASIONALLY," said a traveler, "I see a man on the ears rearing the Bible. This is, perhaps, not so extraordinary in itself, but it is so different from reading the newspapers, or one of 'all the latest novels,' that it always takes my attention."

CARPENTERS all over New York lose their business in oddly dilapidated structures. Many carpenter shops are hidden away in the alleys of the West side, and nearly all such shops occupy structures that seem to be standing merely upon scaffolding, and look as if they must soon make way for something more substantial.

THE hurry of modern life or some other equally good reason has made the wares of the street broom seller picturesque and pleasing. There was a time when brooms came into the market well seasoned and yellow; now, however, they come still bearing the delightful light water green of the unseasoned stage, and there are few more pleasing sights than the broom seller with his mass of soft, uniform green, carried at shoulder shift.

"A MAN who always interests me," said a promenader, "is the man who has just provided himself with a new outfit of clothing throughout. He has collected some back pay, or has just come into a fortune, or he has received a month's salary, or he has come to the city with the express purpose of so providing himself; and here he is, new from head to foot, with his hat still wearing the luster of the shelves and his shoes lustrous after the first blacking."

SCIENCE OF ALL SORTS.

THE average speed of the transmission of earthquake shocks is nearly 16,000 feet per second.

AN "inch of rain" means a gallon of water spread over a surface of nearly two square feet, or a fall of about 10 tons upon an acre.

PHYSICS, by a course of experiments made by the Prussian government, has proved a reliable scale predictor in steam boilers.

THE wettest place in the world is Cherrypoint, in southwestern Assam, where the annual average rainfall is 100 inches. In 1861 the rainfall there reached 905 inches.

Mrs. Eustis Hart, the husband of the Mrs. Hart who had the Irish village at the fair, says that the only cholera preventive is pure-water supply. Mr. Hart is a recognized cholera authority.

IT has heretofore been almost impossible to make large castings of aluminum, but the difficulty has been so far overcome that pure aluminum bathtubs are now made in a single piece.

IS the geological triassic period the Connecticut river valley and perhaps the whole eastern portion of what is now the North American continent inhabited by a gigantic species of two and four footed reptiles?

ECHOES OF THE WHITE CITY.

THE value of all the foreign exhibits that were at the world's fair is estimated by the United States treasury officials at $15,000,000.

A CLEAR profit of $488,159 was made by the United States government, as shown by Collector Clark, of Chicago, from customs duties on world's fair exhibits, 30 per cent. of the whole number catalogued.

THE report of the executive committee of awards of the world's fair shows that medals were awarded to 28,757 exhibitors, 30 per cent. of the whole number catalogued.

JOHN DONOGHUE'S statue, "The Spirit," which started for the world's fair from Rome, but never got any farther than a Philadelphia freight house, in default of a two thousand dollar transportation bill, is the largest statue ever modeled.

IN the fifth century before Christ refined copper was deemed as precious metal.

IN 1844 Napier's coin-weighting machine was put in use in the Bank of England.

THE trade dollar was intended for use in commerce with China, India and Japan.

THE first American coins were made in England in 1652 for the Virginia company.

THE first English gold coins were minted in 1357, in the forty-second year of Henry III.

IN 1631 the invention of milling the edges of coins to prevent clipping was introduced.

SAMUEL RICHARDSON's novel, "Clarissa Harlowe," published in 1748, is generally conceded to be the longest piece of fiction in the English language. It contains 1,134,000 words. The average novel of the present day contains from forty thousand to eighty thousand words.

SPORTS AND PASTIME.

THE czar has ordered a new thirty-foot cutter yacht, to be built by J. S. White, of Cowes, during this season. It is to be magnificently fitted.

THE length of the largest tiger skin ever taken, after being stretched and dried, was thirteen feet six and one-half inches.

CONTINUED fair and cold; warmer Tuesday night, is the way our weather dispatch reads yesterday.

We are receiving our new goods daily and invite you to call and see us. Same place shoes and slippers next week. B. F. Jones & Son.

The equinoctial storm was a little late, but it got here all the same and with a vengeance. Yesterday was the most disagreeable day of the year.

PROHIBITION may or may not prohibit. This is something we cannot tell. But when buying clocks or watches, Danks, the Jeweler, will treat you well.

It is a good thing that the prohibition fight is over. A few more days of such excitement would have unbalanced minds not very strong to start with.

We want your trade, Danks, the Jeweler.

SAVE money, time and labor by using the vapor stove. W. H. Warren & Co. •

I AM now receiving a full line of spring suitings. Call and see them. H. C. Rupley.

Just received a new and nice lot of spring clothing for boys. Call and see S. H. Shanks.

TOMMY BALL is having this office to do him some fine printing for his store which he will open at Bowland this week. As an advertisement writer Tommy is hard to beat.

CAPT. J. E. CHOTTER, who used to run on this division, got a verdict of $6,250 against the N. N. & M. V. railroad Friday. He was permanently injured in a wreck last year, besides losing one eye.

HILDE, Marshal Wm. Springer, of Pittsburg, took Walker Brown, of London, to Louisville Friday where he was held over in the sum of $200 to answer before the Federal grand jury for alleged violation of the internal revenue laws.

THE DEWEY Heywood Concert Company were to give one of their excellent performances last night at Walton's Opera House. Should you read this before the performance began you may be reminded that you will miss a treat if you fail to attend.

THE vote in the Hustonville precincts was very full. Assessor Kennedy's last book shows a voting population of 787 and 800 voted. It is said, however, that not over 75 per cent of the negroes are ever listed for taxation, owing to their migratory life.

MANAGER J. W. HAYDEN asks us to request the water users to lay in a supply of water, as he will cut the pipes Wednesday in order to extend a side main on the cut off pipe and insert a hydrant near Mrs. Lou Shanks. It may be shut off all day.

THE performance of the Reed Sisters put the Christian Endeavor Society $8 in the hole. Counter attractions and failure to make the necessary effort account for the loss. The entertainment was enjoyed, especially the part in which the "president" took a part, and acquitted himself most creditably. He is indeed a man of many parts.

A REPORTER from Washington says that brother of the late A. M. Swoope has notified Col. Breckinridge that Swoope's name must not be dragged into the scandal, adding that he will personally protect his brother's memory. Similar significant notices are said to have come from the son and son-in-law of the late Senator Beck. The judge has taken under advisement the admissibility of Dr. Lewis' deposition.
